

ONSITE PRESS INFO

The American Gastroenterological Association (AGA) Institute, the American Society of Clinical Oncology (ASCO), the American Society for Radiation Oncology (ASTRO) and the Society of Surgical Oncology (SSO) are pleased to host members of the press for the 2012 Gastrointestinal Cancers Symposium – Science and Multidisciplinary Management of GI Malignancies, taking place January 19-21, 2012, at The Moscone West Building in San Francisco, CA.

Communications staff will be onsite to assist you and to facilitate interview requests. In addition, experts will be available in the Press Room to provide outside context and perspective on abstracts presented at the Symposium.

- Press Room: The Moscone West Building – Room 2001
- Press Room Phone: 415-348-4405 and 415-348-4406
- Press Registration: Check-in and registration will begin Thursday, January 19, 2012 at 7:00 AM PT.
- Press Room Hours:
Thursday, January 19: 7:00 AM - 5:30 PM PT
Friday, January 20: 7:00 AM - 5:30 PM PT
Saturday, January 21: 7:00 AM - 6:00 PM PT
- Press Room Amenities: Workspace, phones, computers, WiFi access, hot and cold beverages, breakfast and lunch and communications staff.
- Embargo Policy: All abstracts presented at the Symposium are embargoed until Tuesday, January 17, 2012 at 6:00 PM EST.
- Expert Availability:
Thursday, January 19
11:45 AM-12:15 PM PT
Morton Kahlenberg, MD, Member, 2012 Gastrointestinal Cancers Symposium News Planning Team

Friday, January 20
9:45-10:15 AM PT
Cathy Eng, MD, Chair, 2012 Gastrointestinal Cancers Symposium Program Committee

Saturday, January 21
10:30-11:00 AM PT
Richard Goldberg, MD, Chair, 2012 Gastrointestinal Cancers Symposium Steering Committee
- Virtual Meeting Login: Username: gi_pressaccess
Password: pre$$1
(case-sensitive)
Important Instructions: Go to www.asco.org/vm, select the presentation you wish to view and then sign-in when prompted. Do not sign on to asco.org first; there is no activation code for press access.